

Schools / Colleges / Groups Risk Assessment & Rules and Conditions of Entry

Please note: We are a primate rescue and rehabilitation centre and not a zoo, as such the majority of our primates have been abused, neglected and exploited.

We would be grateful if you could remind your students of this fact prior to entering our park.

We have offered our rescued monkeys and apes sanctuary, free from abuse of any kind and we will not tolerate any behaviour from visitors that causes distress to our primates in anyway, for e.g. shouting, screaming, banging on the viewing windows, running up and down outside enclosures, throwing items into the enclosures, feeding our primates etc..

Visitors that do not abide by the rules of entry to the park will be asked to leave and no refund will be given.

Risk Assessment Guidance

Monkey World operates under the auspices of the Zoo Licensing Act. We are subject to annual inspections from Enforcement Officers who look at the way we take care of our Primates and the safety of Staff and Visitors. The license has to be renewed every six years.

We strongly recommended that group organisers make a pre-visit to Monkey World and carry out their own risk assessment. We allow one free entry per class/group which is available on request when booking your visit. In the event that a pre-visit is impossible, this document provides a general outline of the risks and controls identified.

It is essential that all children are supervised throughout their visit to us and that all attending the visit understand the following :

- The aims and objectives of the visit
- How to avoid specific dangers and why they must follow rules
- Why safety precautions are in place and what standard of behaviour is expected
- Who is responsible for the Group
- What to do if approached by anyone from outside the Group
- What to do if separated from the Group
- The time and place of departure of the Group
- That in an emergency situation eg. first aid, they must notify a member of Monkey World staff urgently. (as laid down in the DfES Health and Safety of Pupils on Education Visits 1998)

Your entrance to the park acknowledges acceptance of the park's Rules of Entry.

We very much hope that you enjoy your visit to the park, set in 65 acres of the most beautiful scenery in the heart of the Dorset countryside, it will provide you with a rare opportunity to observe these magnificent primates as they go about their daily business, living naturally in groups, free from harm.

We would like to remind our visitors that we are a rescue and rehabilitation centre and not a zoo and as such, we do not put our primates on display. Our enclosures are large and have been designed specifically to meet the needs of the primates. Almost all of the primates at the park have been rescued from exploitation, abuse, and neglect. Our aim is to rehabilitate them and allow them to live out the remainder of their lives in a safe, happy and healthy environment with others of their own kind.

We kindly ask you to read our terms and conditions, and respect our rules of entry to the park.

1. Please do not attempt to feed our primates. Our primates are fed specific diets to meet their individual nutritional needs and excess food or sugar can, in some cases, cause serious health problems.
2. Do not stand on or climb the barriers to get closer to the primates. The barriers are there in accordance with wild animal licensing and are considered to be of a safe distance to protect not only the public, but to also ensure the safety of our primates.
3. Do not bang on the glass at the viewing areas. This causes distress to the primates and considerable damage to the glass.
4. Photography. We are happy for you to photograph or video our primates as a reminder of your visit to the park, however this must be for personal use only. You may not use photographs or videos taken of our primates, staff or park, for any commercial purposes. - Exploitation is exactly what we rescued many of our primates from, and so Monkey World retains the copyright of their images.
5. Do not photograph or video any member of staff or other visitors without their knowledge and permission.
